Relaxing: A Spa With a Community Feel

RnR Wellness Spa is an independently owned and operated Boutique Spa, located within the nostalgic Fairmont Palliser, Calgary's 100-year old landmark hotel. We profile the firm to explore the secrets behind its success of being named Most Luxurious Boutique Spa 2017 – Calgary & Excellence Award for Fitness Facilities – Calgary, to discover what makes the facility attractive to clients.

Having moved into the Fairmont Palliser Hotel in 2009, RnR Wellness provides its guests with tranquillity and rejuvenating experiences, with the aim of creating a welcoming and calming environment. Owner Elisabeth Fayt, who is also a best-selling author and inspirational speaker, infuses her enthusiasm throughout RnR's company culture, so everything from the spa menu to its service methods and atmosphere are designed to heal, inspire and treat all elements of body, mind and soul.

Always putting guests first, the Spa's goal is to leave them fully relaxed, rejuvenated and many times inspired. Looking to relax in one of its three cozy relaxation lounges, visitors are invigorated by their visit, and customer satisfaction is very high, as many tourists and guests are returners seeking to relax and have a wonderful experience for the second, third time and on many more occasions.

Presented with the ideal location, the Spa is able to appreciate the aura of the historic building, providing guests with a luxurious and memorable experience right from the outset. First impressions are important in any industry, and RnR Wellness certainly makes a good first impression, with a warmth and pulse that is felt immediately upon entering the facility.

The quaint ambiance at the Spa allows guests and visitors to truly relax, providing them with a getaway from the hectic work life that consumes some people. Offering a variety of services, ranging from massages to facials and couples' retreats, RnR Wellness uses only the best quality of products from Comfort Zone and Eminence, so guests are assured of a top quality of service from all aspects of the treatment. Popular offerings include the RnR Classic Massage, which encompasses the perfect combination of relaxation and therapeutic techniques, tailored to the needs of each guest. It is something to personally experience, in order to understand why it has become a favourite among local Calgarians and returning tourists from all around the world.

An added perk that no other Calgary Spa offers, is its Fairmont Valet Parking Service, complimentary with any Luxury Service. It certainly takes the stress out of downtown parking, and allows the Spa-Goer to relax even before entering the Spa! Clients can begin with a dip in the nostalgic Palliser Pool and enjoy a relaxing soak in the whirlpool before a treatment, or unwind in the co-ed Eucalyptus steam room for added health benefit. Spa-Goers can even include a work-out into their Spa visit, as all Luxury Spa Guests have access to the hotel's fitness centre.

Staff at the Spa are highly-skilled, registered and qualified therapists, with the required certification that meets the needs of most insurance companies for Registered Massage Therapy. Visitors can expect a top-quality Spa service every time they visit, particularly as the Spa is known for its commitment to service and quality, which is why it has become Calgary's favourite Spa experience.

Furthermore, it is not just its guests that the RnR team strives to provide excellence for, as they look to constantly serve the local community. Clients and the community benefit greatly from the services and kindness provided by Elisabeth and her team, through massive charitable donations of prizes, services and gift cards for hundreds of local charities each year.

Ultimately, RnR Wellness Spa is perfect for those looking to get away and relax in a luxurious facility, in an ideal location, with excellent staff, all trained to the highest ability. Aside from a variety of offerings, there are many reasons why guests and clients should visit the Spa, especially those looking for a time-out from a hectic lifestyle.
